

Social Security

Social Security: A New School Of Thought

M950.01

Description unavailable.

Social Security: Every Woman's Issue

M950.02

Description unavailable.

Understanding Social Security's Disability Programs: Mental Impairments

M950.03

This video provides an overview of SSA's disability determination process, demonstrates the essential role of various treating sources in the process, describes the role of the psychiatric or psychological consultants working in the state agencies called Disability Determination Services (DDS), and informs viewers about what kinds of medical and functional information SSA needs in order to properly evaluate the effects of patient impairments and make a correct determination as early as possible.

Color, VHS

Updated 8/2011