

PhD in Human Ecology, Specialization in Marriage and Family Therapy

Student Learning Outcomes

Students graduating from KSU's doctoral program in marriage and family therapy will be able to demonstrate competence in four areas:

1. Marital and Family Therapy. Graduates will demonstrate competence in providing marital and family therapy to individuals, couples, and families.
2. Clinical Supervision. Graduates will demonstrate competence in providing clinical supervision to MFT trainees.
3. Teaching. Graduates will demonstrate competence in synthesizing and communicating relevant knowledge to students, professionals and nonprofessionals.
4. Research. Graduates will be able to design, conduct and interpret related MFT research.